

Emilia STODUTO

UNIMED - Mediterranean Universities
Union

Master Degree in Modern Languages for the International Communication (Arabic and English) at Roma Tre University, Emilia Stoduto focused on Middle East and North Africa region for her studies and researches topics with an internship for an Online Geopolitical Magazine focused on Middle East analysis.

She also holds a Master in Media and Lobbying in International and European Relations at SIOI - Italian Society for International Organization.

She has been working in UNIMED since 2014 as project and communication officer and in charge also of networking activities. Currently she works mostly on the INTERREG MED programme Projects, as Project Manager and Communication Manager support. She speaks Arabic, English and French and has some knowledge of Spanish.