

Femke DE SUTTER

Ghent University

Femke De Sutte holds a master's degree in communication sciences at Ghent University, specializing in Film- and Television Studies. To further explore her interest in the topics around gender, ageing and diversity, she is currently following a master's program in Gender and Diversity at Ghent University.