

COOKIE POLICY OF HTTPS://WWW.EUMEPLAT.EU/

WHAT ARE COOKIES?

Cookies are small text files that sites visited by users send to their terminals, where they are stored and then transmitted to the same sites the next time they visit. Third-party cookies, on the other hand, are set by a website other than the one the user is visiting. This is because on each site there may be elements (images, maps, sounds, specific links to web pages of other domains, etc.) that reside on servers other than that of the site visited. Cookies are used for different purposes: performing computer authentication, monitoring sessions, storing information on specific configurations regarding users accessing the server, storing preferences, etc.. Below you will find all the information about the cookies installed through this site, and the necessary indications on how to manage your preferences regarding them. For more information on cookies and their general functions, visit an informative website such as <https://www.allaboutcookies.org/>.

EXAMPLES OF OTHER TECHNOLOGIES

Localstorage

is a technology used to optimise navigation, which does not collect data on the preferences expressed by the user (e.g. it stores a code that identifies the user's session after login, to avoid the user having to enter a username and password on each profile page when accessing restricted areas).

Tracking pixel

"Tracking code" or "tracking code", is precisely a small portion of code that is released by some systems with the aim of being implemented in others to track certain data relating to the user and his browsing session or opening of emails, in a manner totally transparent to the user himself. The data that are tracked can be the most diverse, such as the day and time, geographical location, the type of device used for navigation, up to the most complex tracking pixels to monitor the value spent on a purchase order and other useful information for the marketing departments of the companies that use them.

Plugin

is a programme that interacts with another programme to extend or expand its original functionality. The most commonly used plugins are those for social networks, which allow, for example, the user to follow a page or social profile with one click, to indicate with one click that he has liked a web content and to share it on his own social network profile, etc.

Widget

is a graphic component of the user interface of a programme, whose purpose is to facilitate user interaction with the programme itself. The most commonly used widgets are those of social networks, which allow users to easily open social networks in a separate browser window. These services make it possible to interact with social networks, or other external platforms, directly from the pages of a site. The interactions and information that may be acquired by the site are subject to the privacy settings of the third party that created the aforementioned technologies. In order to receive detailed information pursuant to art. 13 of Regulation (EU) 2016/679 regarding the use of personal data processed when you use these technologies, we invite you to visit the websites of the third parties that manage these technologies.
